

PUBLISHED BY
The Nutrition Foundation, Inc.
489 Fifth Avenue
New York, N.Y. 10017, U.S.A.

EDITORIAL OFFICE
Department of Nutrition, Harvard School of Public Health
665 Huntington Avenue
Boston, Massachusetts 02115, U.S.A.
Telephone: (617) 734-3300 Ext. 793

EDITOR
D. M. Hegsted, Ph.D.

September 10, 1976

Dr. William J. Darby
The Nutrition Foundation, Inc.
489 Fifth Avenue
New York, New York 10017

Dear Bill,

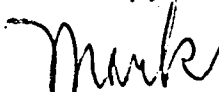

I wrote you on June 24th asking that the check to the department be increased to take care of Robin's raise and a $500 allowance for telephone, supplies, etc. This was done and thanks. The department, however, is now shifting over to more strict accounting procedures and each grant or other activity will be billed for actual expenses. I assume that the easiest way to handle this will be to continue as we are but that at the end of the year to either bill you or refund the difference between actual expenditures and the $500 allowance. I don't know to whose advantage this will be but at least we will know what is being spent.

Our understanding with regard to the write-up on Fred is apparently not quite the same. I understood that Fred would prepare something and that you and Glen would prepare some kind of a statement or statements. I sent you a copy of his CV and enclose a sheet from the recent Alumni Bulletin. I feel too close to the whole business to do a reasonable job and I hope someone else can do it.

It was good to see you and Elva in Stockholm.

Best wishes,

Sincerely,

D.M. Hegsted

DMH:rsh